Belmopan energy storage technology in south america

The advertisement features a central image of a house with solar panels on the roof and a large stack of seven white energy storage units. To the right of the units are four circular icons: a hand pointing to a button, a globe, a battery with a lightning bolt, and a bell with a lightning bolt. Below these icons are four text blocks. At the bottom of the advertisement, there is a large section with the text 'Can save energy' and a paragraph about battery capacity and safety.
