Optimizing wholesale market bid and offer strategies for battery energy storage systems (BESS) is a complicated endeavor. As markets grow more complex to facilitate increasing renewable penetrations, so too does storage bid optimization: maximizing revenue and minimizing risk involves hundreds of. What was the average bid price for non-hydro energy storage systems in Q3?

In the first three quarters, the average bid price for domestic non-hydro energy storage systems (0.5C lithium iron phosphate systems) was 622.90 RMB/kWh, a year-on-year decline of 50%. While bid prices remained relatively stable in the first half of the year, they reached a historic low of 578.11 RMB/kWh in Q3, particularly in September.

Can market participants bid for regulation reserves?

Market participants can bid for regulation reserves, and the CAISO employs a joint procurement approach for these reserves along with energy and contingency reserves. Regulation reserves are categorized into two types: Regulation Up (Reg-Up) and Regulation Down (Reg-Down).

How pumped hydro storage compared to non-hydro energy storage?

The share of pumped hydro storage in the total installed capacity fell below 50% for the first time. Among these, the cumulative installed capacity of non-hydro energy storage surpassed 50 GW for the first time, reaching 55.18 GW/125.18 GWh. Power capacity grew by 119% year-on-year, while energy capacity surged by 244% year-on-year.
